Joyner Edmundson, CFA has earned the CFA Institute Certificate in ESG Investing

Salem Investment Counselors is pleased to announce that Joyner Edmundson has earned the Certificate in Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance (ESG) Investing from the CFA Institute. The certificate has been recognized by the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment, an independent body that seeks to encourage investors to use responsible investment to enhance returns and better manage business risks.

“We are always excited by opportunities to learn and improve our firm, so we are thrilled that Joyner has completed the training to bring this knowledge base to Salem. As long-term investors for our clients, we must always be forward thinking. Understanding ESG investing and its role in the markets is important both now and for the future” said David Rea, President of Salem Investment Counselors.

Salem Investment Counselors provides financial management expertise to individuals, foundations, corporations and professional organizations throughout the United States.
